A take-home colorectal cancer screening kit is one part of the recommended screening for colorectal cancer. The easy-to-use screening kit will be distributed to men and women age 50 or older who have not been screened for colorectal cancer in the past 12 months.

This is a screening test and does not replace a doctor's examination or other screening procedure.

Test kits may only be picked up by the person who will use the test.

Reservations are not necessary.
